Paint Technician Apprenticeship with Solus!

Ipswich

Paint Technicians at Solus are highly trained specialists who work with different paint types and materials, using advanced technology to accurately match vehicle paint and finishes.

Solus supports apprentices with a structured programme that includes progression plans, salary increases, an on-site mentor, specialist training, industry recognition, and equipment such as a toolkit or spray gun kit.

The programme is open to anyone post-16, regardless of previous experience or study, as long as they have a genuine interest in the work.
